

Yarmouk University

Faculty of Arts

Master's in Political Science/ International Political Economy

Program Overview

This pioneering program aims to prepare a select group of specialists capable of understanding and interpreting global economic and political changes. By providing high-quality education and advanced research methodologies, the program aims to enhance Yarmouk University's role as a major hub for academic excellence and international collaboration.

Program Objectives

- Developing students' research and analytical skills.
- Enhancing deep understanding of international and economic relations.
- Preparing professionals capable of addressing contemporary political and economic challenges.

Program Importance

The program stands out for its focus on integrating theory with practical application, enabling students to analyze economic and political issues in innovative and sustainable ways. Additionally, it fosters partnerships with international institutions, opening wide horizons for students in the global job market.

Targeted Groups and Accepted Majors

The program targets ambitious graduates from political science, economics, international relations, and related fields who seek to advance their careers in international political economy.

Job Areas

The program opens wide doors for graduates to work in government institutions, international organizations, research centers, universities, and multinational corporations, where they can hold leadership positions and provide strategic insights.

Credit Hours and Tuition Fees

The program requires the completion of 33 credit hours, with a tuition fee of 70JOD for Jordanian students and 225 USD for international students per credit hour.

Study Plan Overview

The curriculum includes a comprehensive set of required and elective courses covering a variety of topics such as research methods, Jordanian political economy, contemporary theories in international relations, globalization, and international economic organizations. These courses are carefully designed to equip students with the knowledge and skills needed to succeed in this field.

Contact Information

For more information and registration, please contact the Deanship of Graduate Studies at Yarmouk University via email: graduate@yu.edu.jo or visit our website: www.yu.edu.jo.